

Capture

a journal of my photography

Capture

This month's Capture is a showcase of a collection of images made on an adventure up to the Highlands of Scotland. Being based a short distance from Loch Ness gave me plenty of opportunities to venture out into the surrounding wilderness, especially around the beautiful area of Glen Affric, with my camera. It's a strange mix as the weather was challenging and as always wasn't always on my side.

The purpose of Capture is first to showcase some of my work and the second to fine tune my image selecting skills.

I hope you enjoy the images as much as I did creating them.
